

We celebrated this Diwali-2010

With Leprosy Patients.....!

Date: 07 Nov 2010

YFBI once again has taken a step forward in getting much closer to heal the pain of isolated people of our society. Continuing our journey for years with leprosy patients for last 8 years was worth witnessing this year. Patient's excitement to wait for such moments was one of the most motivating factors for the team.

Patients enjoyed drawing rangolis at dining hall of various shapes and formations. Really very impressive ones!!!

As planned on the auspicious occasion of Diwali, around 18:00hrs, we started the Gayatri havan to heal the patients through positive vibrations in the atmosphere. The havan at the end filled the entire place with great silence and love within all the participants who attended this event.

To deepen it more we had bhajan session with joy within. Surprisingly, one of the patient stood up and sang very nice bhajan for all of us. Many of us were shocked to see that, so great to listen which filled our eyes with tears for a moment.

The noticing point was when one of the invitee's new volunteer mentioned that she has seen many NGOs and organization that does this kind of activity but the way we all did as a team was different. Here she saw love and deep feeling for the cause and not just do your duties. One of the participants expressed her support and said, "You are the ideal example of self less service for society. Keep going!"

As a Prasad, we distributed fruits to all the patients staying in the campus. The day got over with touching Marathi movie for them on screen to enjoy and relax.

We thank God to give us this opportunity to celebrate this Diwali in best manner where we extend our help and love to the most needed ones.

We thank all our volunteers, members, participants and all others who have helped this event in all possible manners....!
